

The Mode Says—

You want to be very careful this season in the selection of your clothes Shop—because there have been some very radical changes in fashion and the idea of what constitutes "money's worth."

Mode styles, of course, are distinctly exclusive and distinctively correct. You are safe here—both in selection and value.

Double-breasted is one of the dominating features of the season—and our designers have given them the "right touch." Added to our own line of Top Coats are the Aquascutum Coats of London. $25 to $50 is the range of prices—with feature grades at $25—$27.50—$30.

HATS—Only exclusive shapes—and for the most part exclusive makes—Borsalino—$6; Dobbs—$5 and $6; Mode Special—$3, $3.50 and $4.

GLOVES—There are none to compare with the Mark Cross—no matter what the occasion—so they're here; also exclusively.

EASTER NECKWEAR—Cut Silks and Knitted effects—of our own production and the famous Welch-Margetson Cravats from London. 55c to $3.50.

Puts a smile in war-time filing

It is worth a few minutes of any man's time to investigate the Library Bureau Automatic Index.

Here is a modern method of filing that makes it hard for the clerk to make a mistake—even the most inexperienced. As efficient in un-filing as in filing.

For reports and correspondence of all kinds. And the quickest possible method of indexing and finding names.

The L. B. Automatic Index is making good in the Government service, just as it has made good in the great work-a-day world of business. The principle is right and that means everything.

Drop around soon and see for yourself. The L. B. Automatic Index is Item 1258 on the General Supply Schedule.

RICHTER CONTINUES TO LEAD CARRIERS

Van Voorhis, Second, Says:
Consider the Kids; They Are Real Patriots.

FRANCES, SHE SAVED DAY

LEADERS IN CONTEST.

The names of the letter carriers who have sold more than $100 worth of war savings and thrift stamps in the $500 selling contest being conducted under the auspices of The Star, in the order in which they stood this morning, follows:

H. C. Richter	$1,615.60
H. S. Van Voorhis	742.60
George T. Ellis	637.14
George E. Dunn	618.60
H. A. Clark	492.11
R. G. Spiker	465.28
M. K. Eppley	409.33
John E. Stanton	350.76
Andrew Burgess	327.27
A. P. Connor	298.78
E. Bridwell	282.73
George W. Webster	282.71
M. W. Wheeler	269.27
L. O. Bryant	245.65
E. Cassidy	239.27
F. Q. Shipley	217.00
F. I. Cole	193.68
C. A. Webster	187.66
P. A. Shaw	184.18
A. E. Hamacher	173.34
J. W. Turner	162.65
T. E. Clifton	155.96
D. M. Stanton	155.76
W. H. Douglas	153.89
G. M. Liembach	149.04
Valentine Waller	135.83
J. A. Browne	132.53
T. J. Spaulding	122.96
J. Chick	122.83
W. C. Kidwell	114.78
S. M. Jones	112.03
A. M. Fredericks	108.00

H. C. Richter is still in the lead in the letter carriers' war savings and thrift stamp selling contest, which is being conducted under the auspices of The Evening Star, and which carries with it twenty cash prizes aggregating $500 in amount. H. S. Van Voorhis continues to stick in second place, and George T. Ellis jumped from third to fourth position. R. G. Spiker, who for two days experienced the satisfaction of being in third place, dropped back to sixth, and H. A. Clark shifted from fourth to fifth place.

George E. Dunn, a newcomer in the honor list, landed into fourth place, and M. K. Eppley, who had not been heard from before, is gracing tenth place.

Chevy Chase "Puffed Up."
The Chevy Chase branch post office was all puffed up today when it learned that J. Q. Shipley had landed in sixteenth place and J. W. Turner in twenty-first place. This is the first time Chevy Chase has been represented by any of its carriers in the "leaders' list." Dakota station underwent the same proud feeling when F. I. Cole slid into seventeenth place. Valentine Waller brought Anacostia out of obscurity by getting into twenty-sixth place. The stamp sales today ran a trifle over $1,000, making the total sales since the starting of the contest on March 20 about $25,000.

Richter, who is leading the list, didn't rest Sunday. It was Palm Sunday, and he went to the Christ Lutheran Church with his family. While others were listening to the music and the sermon, and wondering how much palm they could carry home with them, Richter was letting thoughts of war savings creep in. After the service he turned his thinking into talking, and as a result sold stamps amounting to $185.60. That was pretty fair for a Sabbath morning, but Richter wasn't satisfied. He was a guest for dinner at his sister's in the afternoon, and, according to him, it was a good dinner, and Richter appreciated it—in fact, he appreciated his sister's hospitality so much he sold her $111.60 worth of stamps before he left for home.

Richter Hates to Loil.
Being a typical letter carrier, Richter hates to sit for any length of time. So, after supper, instead of trying to catch up with the Sunday papers and read more about that new German toy that is said to be toasting shells right into the main streets of Paris from a distance of seventy miles, he hurried from the house in lure of more stamp buyers. He found them, too, and sold $22 worth, thus making his Palm Sunday efforts total $207.60.

Postman Keyser, who has a quiet little route in Georgetown, claims that he was never lucky in his life. He contends that he could even have been luckier in inheriting a name. However, his present woe is due to the fact that he, like all of the other postmen, hadn't any idea that this contest was going to start until The Star announced it on the eve of the opening, and at noon that day he had turned in $440 from stamp sales for which he will not get credit in this contest. But Keyser is game, and instead of moping or bel-lowing, he simply said, "That's just my luck," and immediately started to get busy.

Postman Duckett said today that he is going to be heard from soon. He has been busy advocating the purchase of stamps, but as yet has not succeeded in getting in the list of leaders. Duckett is a busy man. He is one of our best city farmers. He has a whole of a back yard and is known as the principal farmer of Park View; he has an army of leghorn hens—and you know this is the busy season for hens.

In fact, Mr. Hoover says they have got to lay, and Duckett's are not slackers. So between gardening and fruit pruning, and egg hunting, besides strolling a few miles each day on his mail route, and soliciting war savings business at night, he leads a very "idle" life—one of those "nothing-to-do-until-tomorrow" existences.

Hey! You Rich Men! Get Busy!
Having two or three millionaires, a couple of embassies, and a legation or two, as well as several senators and representatives and the largest apartment in the city on your mail route does not necessarily indicate that it is what is referred to as "easy picking" in this stamp selling game. On the contrary, Postman Van Voorhis, who bends his back daily under a ton of mail up Meridian hill, contends that this so-called swell route of his is anything but rosy.

DAYLIGHT SAVING NOT TO ALTER STORE HOURS

No changes in Washington store hours will result from the operation of the daylight-saving law, which goes into effect April 1, Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association, announced today.

Mr. Columbus said the merchants will meet the situation by setting their clocks with the national timepiece. He expressed the belief that the law would benefit all classes of workers and business men.

TWO AUTOS MISSING.

J. W. Chapman and Metcalf & Dietz Are Latest Victims.

Two automobiles taken from this city the last few days have not been recovered. One is a Buick roadster, 1916 pattern, the property of J. W. Chapman, 2510 20th street. The maker's number is 194,822, and its District of Columbia license number is 16-740.

Metcalf & Dietz, Pennsylvania avenue and 14th street, are owners of a Cadillac, 1916 pattern, that was taken from in front of their place of business. It carried District of Columbia license 12-525, and its engine number is A-30,841.

SEEKS INVESTIGATION OF BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

Request for investigation of the federal chartered Boy Scouts of America was filed yesterday by John D. Gluck of New York with the Department of Justice and the House judiciary committee. Mr. Gluck is commissioner of the United States Boy Scouts, an organization said to have members in New York city.

In the request for investigation complaint is made of persecution at the hands of the Boy Scouts of America, which organization has a suit pending before the New York courts seeking to prevent the use of the name "Boy Scouts" by the organization of which Mr. Gluck is the head.

Colin H. Livingstone of this city, commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, is in New York attending the annual executive meeting of the organization. James E. West, chief scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, also in New York, made public a statement last night, in which he asserted that the complaints and allegations contained in the request for investigation filed in this city by Mr. Gluck "against Colin H. Livingstone and myself as officials of the Boy Scouts of America are merely a case of retaliation for charges that were made against Mr. Gluck and some of his associates in the United States Boy Scouts in an affidavit filed by me February 15 last."

PARIS, Monday, March 25.—The chamber of deputies today adopted a bill giving the government a monopoly of the purchase and sale of industrial alcohol.

WOULD RAISE $26,000 TO LIFT ITS MORTGAGE

Central Union Mission to Make a Whirlwind Campaign, Beginning April 1.

The Central Union Mission wants to lift the mortgage on its central building, at 622 Louisiana avenue. To this end the directors of the mission have decided on a whirlwind campaign to raise $26,000 in the week of April 1.

Working with the co-operation of the pastors of Washington churches, under the direction of Rev. Earle Willey of the Vermont Avenue Christian Church and with the support of many prominent citizens of the city, it is expected that the total will be raised.

The present structure is mortgaged for $23,000. The additional $3,000 is needed for current expenses.

Twelve Teams to Be Appointed.
Six teams of women and six of men will be appointed to canvass the city and interview prospective contributors.

Assignments will be given these teams at a banquet of campaign workers to be held in a central church, not yet selected, Monday night, April 1. Sections of the city will be given them to cover, and the names of Washingtonians who support philanthropic institutions will be distributed. During the progress of the campaign the workers will meet at a downtown church every noon for luncheon.

Cares for "Down and Outers."

During the past year more than 1,600 "down-and-outers"—men who had relinquished their faith in mankind and have been helped by the mission. Many of them have been put on their feet and now hold responsible positions in government and private enterprise in Washington. One of the slogans of the mission is "to help men to help themselves to life right."

GARFIELD REITERATES

"BUY YOUR COAL EARLY"

Mine Production Was Off Half Million Tons Last Week.

Another "buy your coal early" warning has been issued by Fuel Administrator Garfield.

Mine production last week fell off half a million tons, due to slackness in orders. Should any such condition continue there will be another coal famine next winter, worse, probably, than the one through which the country recently passed.

Last week's slump in orders is not in itself alarming. A let-up in orders, especially for anthracite, was expected, in view of the fact that a reduction of 30 cents a ton at the mines becomes effective next Monday.

But the fuel administration is anxious there shall be no slackness on the part of consumers in placing their orders for delivery after April 1. If there is to be sufficient coal to run through next winter the mines must be kept in operation and the coal kept moving all spring and summer.

Regulations imposing penalties on operators who fail to meet the contract standard for clean coal were announced last night by the fuel administration.

When a man does something mean to you that you had thought of doing to him it warps the golden rule.

CHICAGO SALOONS THREATENED

All Within 5 Miles of Lake Naval Training Station Affected.
CHICAGO, March 25.—Unless the city council passes ordinances immediately for the strict regulation of saloons, the federal government will close all saloons within five miles of the lake front naval training station, which would mean the shutting up of more than 5,000 of the city's 6,000 drinking places, including the bars in all the loop hotels and clubs.

The annual convention of the Maine State Federation of Women's Clubs, meeting today at Augusta, will be devoted chiefly to the discussion of women's war service.

SUCCEEDS MARC KLAW.

Malcolm L. McBride in Charge of Entertainments in Training Camps.
Announcement was made today by Raymond B. Fossick, chairman of the War Department commission on training camp activities, of the appointment of Malcolm L. McBride of Cleveland to be in charge of theaters and entertainments in the training camps. Mr. McBride is to succeed Marc Klaw of New York, who has resigned because of pressing personal affairs.
